intended for pleasure ed wheat: God Hates Rebecca Barrett-Fox, 2016-06-06 The congregants thanked God that they weren't like all those hopeless people outside the church, bound for hell. So the Westboro Baptist Church's Sunday service began, and Rebecca Barrett-Fox, a curious observer, wondered why anyone would seek spiritual sustenance through other people's damnation. It is a question that piques many a witness to Westboro's more visible activity—the GOD HATES FAGS picketing of funerals. In God Hates, sociologist Barrett-Fox takes us behind the scenes of Topeka's Westboro Baptist Church. The first full ethnography of this infamous presence on America's Religious Right, her book situates the church's story in the context of American religious history—and reveals as much about the uneasy state of Christian practice in our day as it does about the workings of the Westboro Church and Fred Phelps, its founder. God Hates traces WBC's theological beliefs to a brand of hyper-Calvinist thought reaching back to the Puritans—an extreme Calvinism, emphasizing predestination, that has proven as off-putting as Westboro's actions, even for other Baptists. And yet, in examining Westboro's role in conservative politics and its contentious relationship with other fundamentalist activist groups, Barrett-Fox reveals how the church's message of national doom in fact reflects beliefs at the core of much of the Religious Right's rhetoric. Westboro's aggressively offensive public activities actually serve to soften the anti-gay theology of more mainstream conservative religious activism. With an eye to the church's protest at military funerals, she also considers why the public has responded so differently to these than to Westboro's anti-LGBT picketing. With its history of Westboro Baptist Church and its founder, and its profiles of defectors, this book offers a complex, close-up view of a phenomenon on the fringes of American Christianity—and a broader, disturbing view of the mainstream theology it at once masks and reflects.

intended for pleasure ed wheat: Amazing Relationship Rev Dr. Faith Nyagato, 2014-11-20 Amazing Relationship - All Out of Love is a book I wrote out of God's inspiration after I have seen many family problems of mother and daughter in law relationship. My fear was on 1 Timothy 5:8 If anyone does not provide for his relatives, especially for his immediate family he has denied the faith, and is worse than a heathen. The ways we provide and appreciate love differ from person to person. To me it was that I give my personal support to my in laws and help in developing each other. Providing your personal support and develop each other is the key to mother and daughter in law relationship. Amazing relationship begins by making a decision to love unconditional, accept, respect and appreciate each one as a gift from God, with all that is within you, mind, action and attitude. My prayer is for this book to help you understand that it only starts with knowing God's command of love, then you share that love with your in laws as you make history of your family. Your in-laws are specially gifts from God and are very unique from your children yet they bring with them blessings. He who finds a wife finds a favor
