Understanding the Executive Assessment

The Executive Assessment is a standardized test designed to evaluate the skills and knowledge of potential business school candidates, particularly those interested in executive MBA programs. Unlike traditional GMAT or GRE tests, the EA focuses on the abilities that are most relevant to business leaders, including critical thinking, analytical reasoning, and quantitative skills. The EA typically consists of three main sections: Integrated Reasoning, Verbal, and Quantitative, providing a holistic view of a candidate's capabilities.

One of the key distinctions of the Executive Assessment is its unique format, which allows test-takers to showcase their skills in a way that aligns with the demands of executive education. The exam is shorter than the GMAT, with a total testing time of approximately 90 minutes, making it an attractive option for busy professionals. Additionally, the EA is designed to be taken by individuals who have significant work experience, further emphasizing its focus on real-world applications of knowledge.
