islamic workbooks: Curriculum Renewal for Islamic Education Nadeem A. Memon, Mariam Alhashmi, Mohamad Abdalla, 2021-05-10 This book demonstrates why and how it is necessary to redesign Islamic Education curriculum in the K-12 sector globally. From Western public schools that integrate Muslim perspectives to be culturally responsive, to public and private schools in Muslim minority and majority contexts that teach Islamic studies as a core subject or teach from an Islamic perspective, the volume highlights the unique global and sociocultural contexts that support the disparate trajectories of Islamic Education curricula. Divided into three distinct parts, the text discusses current Islamic education curricula and considers new areas for inclusion as part of a general renewal effort that includes developing curricula from an Islamic worldview, and the current aspirations of Islamic education globally. By providing insights on key concepts related to teaching Islam, case studies of curriculum achievements and pitfalls, and suggested processes and pillars for curriculum development, contributors present possibilities for researchers and educators to think about teaching Islam differently. This text will benefit researchers, doctoral students, and academics in the fields of secondary education, Islamic education, and curriculum studies. Those interested in religious education as well as the sociology and theory of religion more broadly will also enjoy this volume.

islamic workbooks: Banning Islamic Books in Australia Richard Pennell, Pam Pryde, Emmett Stinson, 2011-06-15 In 2005, the Australian Federal Police referred eight Islamic books to the Australian Classification Board. The goal was to secure a ban of the books, all of which were alleged to advocate 'terrorist acts'. After nearly a year of review, and intense public debate, two of the books were refused classification and effectively banned in a move that would have severe repercussions for librarians, scholars, authors and the state of free speech in Australia. Banning Islamic Books in Australia examines the cultural and political contexts that led up to the ban, and the content of the books themselves in an attempt to determine what it was that made them seem so dangerous. It also documents the unintended consequences of the ban on library collections and academic freedom, and how this in turn affects free speech in contemporary Australia. islamic workbooks: Putting Islam to Work Gregory Starrett, 1998-03-26 The development of mass education and the mass media have transformed the Islamic tradition in contemporary Egypt and the wider Muslim world. In Putting Islam to Work, Gregory Starrett focuses on the historical interplay of power and public culture, showing how these new forms of communication and a growing state interest in religious instruction have changed the way the Islamic tradition is reproduced. During the twentieth century new styles of religious education, based not on the recitation of sacred texts but on moral indoctrination, have been harnessed for use in economic, political, and social development programs. More recently they have become part of the Egyptian government's strategy for combating Islamist political opposition. But in the course of this struggle, the western-style educational techniques that were adopted to generate political stability have instead resulted in a rapid Islamization of public space, the undermining of traditional religious authority structures, and a crisis of political legitimacy. Using historical, textual, and ethnographic evidence, Gregory Starrett demonstrates that today's Islamic resurgence is rooted in new ways of thinking about Islam that are based in the market, the media, and the school.

islamic workbooks: African American Islam Aminah Beverly McCloud, 2014-07-16 Islam is a vital, growing religion in America. Little is known, however, about the religion except through the biased lens of media reports which brand African American Muslims as Black Muslims and portray their communities as places of social protest. African American Islam challenges these myths by contextualizing the experience and history of African American Islamic life. This is the first book to investigate the diverse African American Islamic community on its own terms, in its own language and through its own synthesis of Islamic history and philosophy.

islamic workbooks: What is Islam (Goodword Books) Maulana Wahiduddin Khan, 2013-12-24 The concept of God in Islam provides man with an ideology in which loss is turned to gain and in which adversity brings with it good tidings. And it is in submission to God and living a God-oriented life that man finds complete fulfilment and purpose of life. When he discovers God and worships Him, when he remembers Him, when his mind is turned towards Him with full concentration, when he makes a request or a plea, he establishes a contact with his Creator. In the words of the Hadith, at that particular moment he comes to whisper with his Lord. He has the tangible feeling that he is pouring his heart out to God and that God in turn is answering his call. He starts receiving inspiration from God. This is the beginning of living a God-Oriented Life and the development of a positive personality.

islamic workbooks: Pedagogy of Islam Mujibul Hasan Siddiqui, 2020-01-01 As commonly understood, pedagogy is the approach to teaching. It refers to the theory and practice of learning, and how this process influences, and is influenced by, the social, political and psychological development of learners. Initially religious traditions embody inherent pedagogical perspectives—a way of teaching religion. And especially among Muslim scholarship, conceptual aspects of a philosophy of education rooted in Islam have been articulated but often piecemeal, making it quite inaccessible to Islamic schools today. In fact the real challenge has been in synthesising philosophies of Islamic pedagogy, in a way that is relevant and applicable to contemporary schools. The present book, titled, 'Pedagogy of Islam' consists of twelve chapters, penned by various renowned teachers, teacher-trainers and researchers working at different universities and institutes of higher learning. All crucial issues like, conceptual and historical aspects of Islam, aims and objectives of education, methods of teaching and learning, curriculum development/ reform, lesson planning in Islamic pedagogy etc., are given elaborate treatment herein.

islamic workbooks: Itinerant Curriculum Theory João M. Paraskeva, 2024-06-27 This book advances new ways of thinking about emergence and impact of Itinerant Curriculum Theory (ICT). Written by authors based in Algeria, Brazil, Chile, China, Estonia, South Korea, Spain and the USA, the chapters examine the opportunities and challenges paved by ICT in the struggle to open up and decolonize curriculum policies. The chapters cover topics including, ecologies of the Global South, education discourse in South Korea, China's Curriculum Reform, and the history of colonialism in the Middle East. Building on the work of Antonia Darder, Boaventura de Sousa Santos and others, this book posits that the future of the field is the struggle against curriculum epistemicides and this is ultimately a struggle for social justice. The book includes a Foreword by the leading curriculum historian William Schubert, Professor Emeritus of Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Illinois at Chicago, USA.

islamic workbooks: The Call to Islam (da'wa islamiyya) Henning Wrogemann, 2024-05-24

Today Islam is numerically the second largest religion in the world. Its message is aimed generally at all people and has been addressed to Muslims and non-Muslims alike since the beginning of Islam through the »Call to Islam« (Arabic da'wa islamiyya). But what exactly does »Call to Islam« mean? After a brief historical sketch of different forms of da'wa, this book provides an overview of various da'wa theologies of the 20th and 21st centuries as well as of some da'wa organizations and different da'wa approaches. Finally, the question is raised about the challenges that da'wa activities of a conservative or an Islamist Islam pose for liberal and democratic societies.
